

MCO OER FACULTY CONVERSATIONS

Join us for a series of MCO Faculty Conversations on Open educational Resources (OER). These conversations feature faculty who are currently using an open textbook or other OER in their courses. The conversations are open to all faculty who are currently using OER or want to learn more about the experience from their peers.

Topics may include (plus anything else you would like to ask):

- What textbook are faculty using and why?
- Did they make any adjustments to their teaching?
- Any challenges for them or their students?
- How did the students like the textbook?
- What would they do differently next time?
- What outcomes did they see?
